

The People on the Poster

The image on our poster is one of a series of photographs of the 4th Northern General Hospital (Lincoln), Royal Army Medical Corps.

During the First World War the hospital was based at the Lincoln School on Wragby Road (now Lincoln Christ's Hospital School).

The man second from the left of the photograph has been identified as Corporal Frederick Charles Turnor, R.A.M.C. We would be delighted to hear from visitors who can identify any of the other individuals.

Also displayed is a very rare surviving edition of the hospital's monthly magazine for January 1917.
